

When I Open My Eyes by Broken Pages

When I open my eyes,
I could see my dreams.
When I get out of bed,
I float away.

The resuscitation of this world,
Has brought the colors back.
Because when I open my eyes,
I see you.

I'll break down the walls you've
Set out for me.
Just like it should be.

I'll climb the gates,
And embed myself,
In your memories,
So you'll remember me.

I was driving in memory lane,
Then I came to a stop sign.
Then I went to a turn, I saw your face and crashed.
Must you be everywhere,
Even on my mind?

